

Conscious Communication™ for Lasting Relationship Breakthroughs

Are you ready to...truly break through to a whole new level of relationship fulfillment, personal evolution, career success, and inner Peace?

...Resolve conflicts and unfulfilling interactions at the source so they don't resurface again later?
... Learn how to never hear a "no" in any situation where you request something of another person?

Imagine if everyone's every action originated from a simple, beautiful, universal, and essentially innocent need.

Perhaps this idea is shocking or tough to believe, but what if you could really know it to be true, and be able to perceive behind projections and belief systems to see the divine source within all, even though their choices and actions might not effectively meet their true needs, or might not serve others.

Imagine the freedom and lightness you can experience by knowing that we are each ultimately responsible for our own feelings, and by then living that truth.

Join the upcoming tele-class starting very soon and you will:

- Transform inner critic and self-sabotaging voices/energies into a wise Inner Teacher in order to fully appreciate and empower yourself
- Think and speak in ways that are far more likely to allow win-win situations where everyone's needs get met
- Quickly shift to a healthier and more fun mind set whenever you slip into a funky mood involving anger, shame, depression, envy, judgment, etc.
- Understand the powerful truth behind all relationship dynamics

Class Format: All you need is internet and an audio headset (phone option available). The course consists of plenty of powerful and playful group interaction during weekly conference calls (including live voice/video/text), and in between on a private group email list. Class size is 6-11 adventurers.

Prepare to have your mind stretched, your spirit awakened, your heart opened & your funny bone tickled. Tuition: $345, registercc@craigwebb.ca

"I most liked the trust created by Craig, and his unbelievable ability to access, trust and stay with his intuition, and see and contact a deeper reality. I found him to be the least ego-driven teacher/facilitator I've ever encountered." –Christine Dreisziger

"I wanted powerful transformation and wow did I get it! I am so grateful." –Hélène Gosselin, CEO, Assurances Gosselin, Inc.

Your Guide for the Adventure

Craig Sim Webb, Professional Counselor and Author/Speaker/Trainer for two decades, has trained extensively in conflict resolution and interpersonal dynamics after experiencing multiple painful and costly personal and professional relationship disappointments.

A McGill University graduate & Executive Director of the DREAMS Foundation, he has spent two decades studying, writing and teaching applied psychology, relationships, conflict resolution, and dreams with a refreshing style that blends soul, science, heart and humor.

As an invited/hired expert for major motion pictures, Fortune 500 corporations, BBC, SyFy, numerous universities, magazines and others, Craig and his work have made well over a thousand international media appearances (ABC, CBS, CTV, CBC, NBC, Discovery Channel, PBS, New York Times, Reader's Digest, etc.) He's had the privilege to train top CEO's, a-list celebrities, doctors, world class athletes, professors, best-selling authors, and many others from all walks of life, helping them make profound breakthroughs while having loads of fun with the process.
